

MOTIVATION

DISCOVERY

When you stumble across the work of someone so obscure, it might as well have been you.

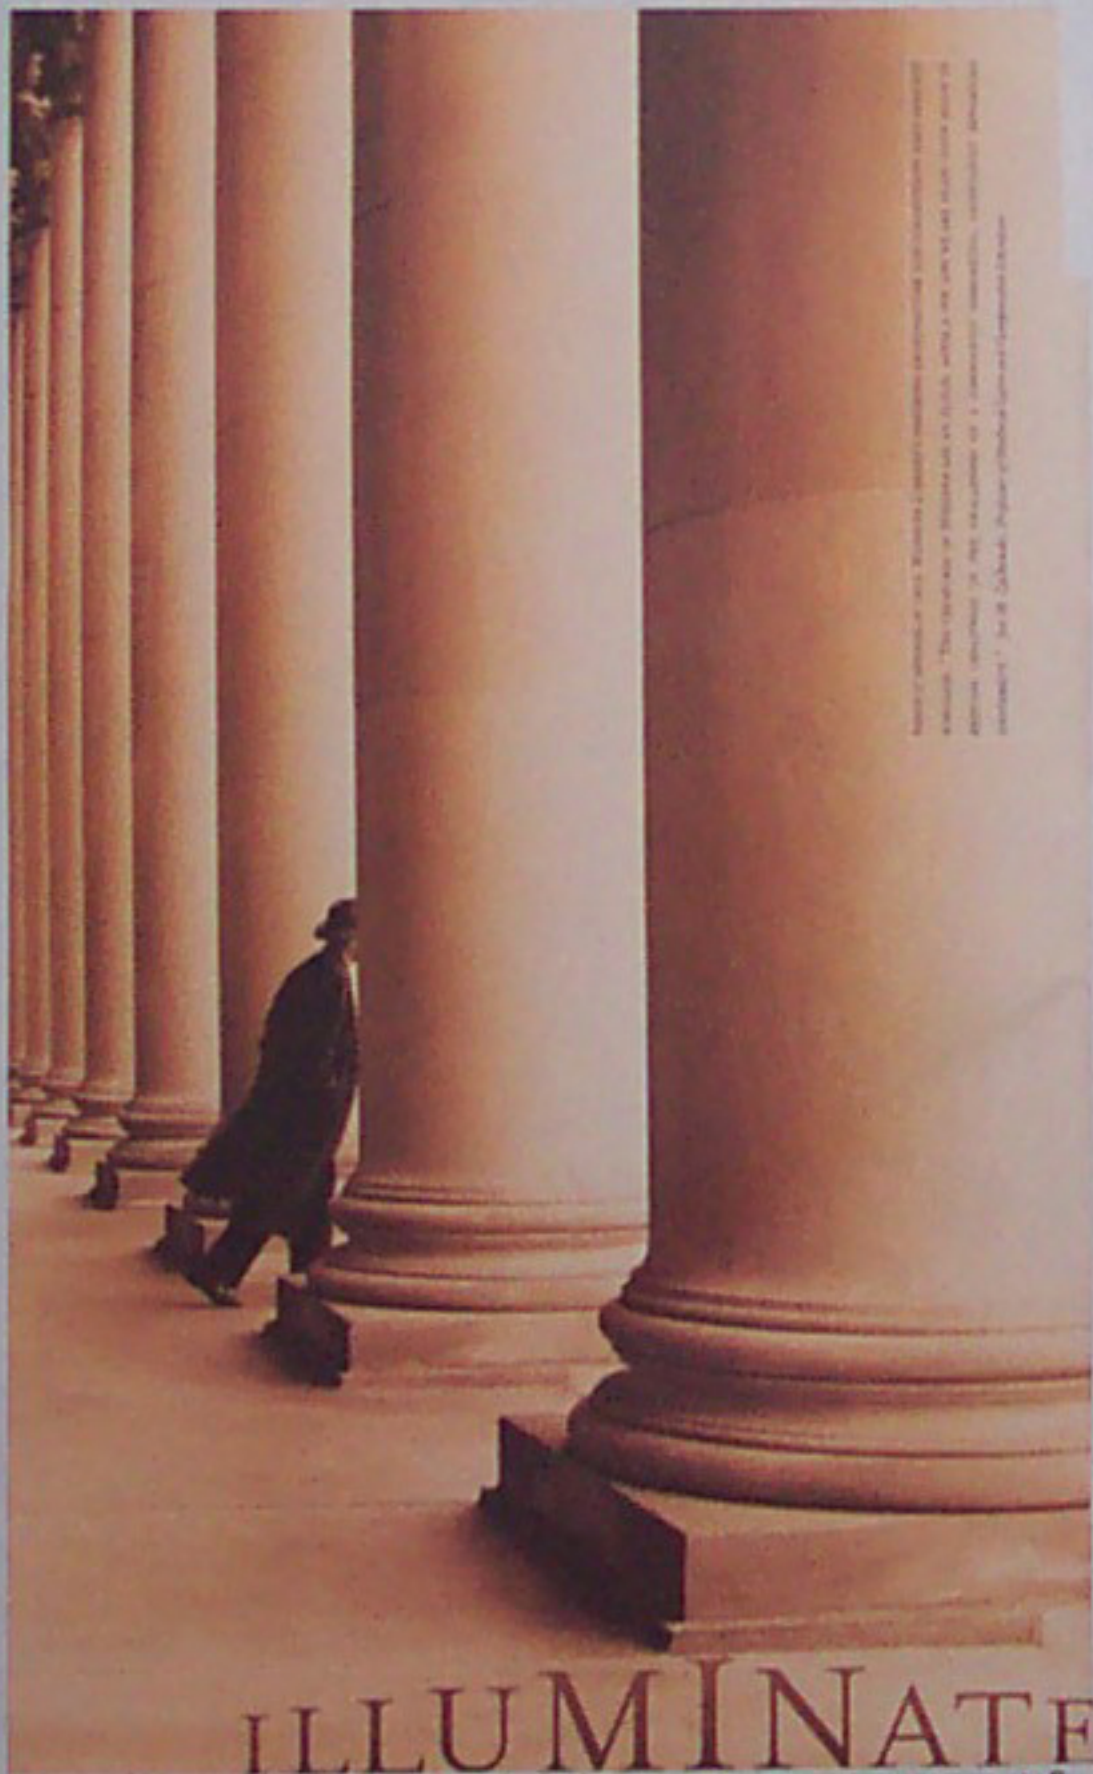

CURIOSITY

If you haven't learned that this will kill you by the time you leave high school, don't worry, that's what college is for.

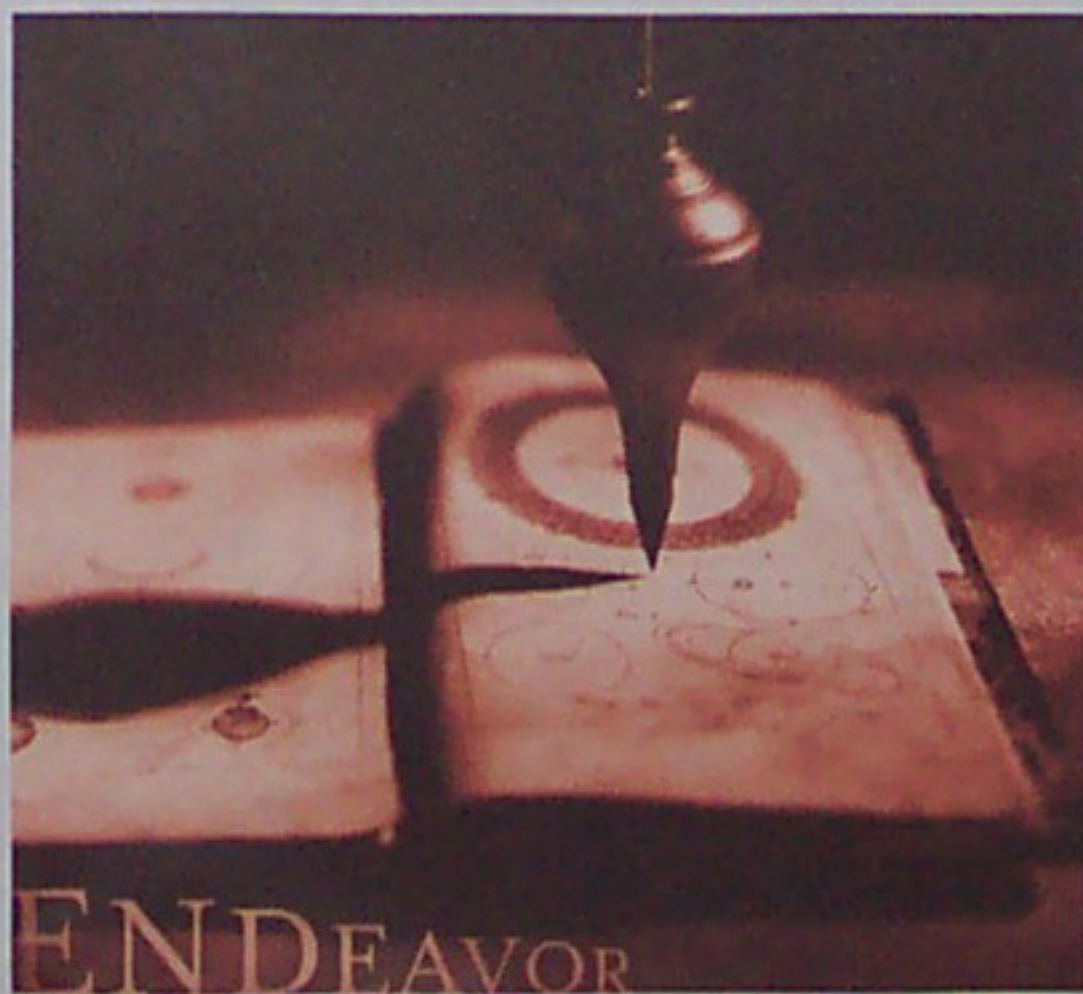

PROGRESS

When you've written enough stuff that's completely unintelligible to anyone else, they can never really know for sure that you haven't made a major breakthrough.

ILLUMINATE

Torturers have long known that if you shine a blinding floodlight into someone's eyes while explaining something, you can make them understand just about anything you want them to.

ENDEAVOR

For the times when you need to say something just a little bit more pretentious than "attempt".

DIVERSITY

You seriously have no idea how many different kinds of trees this university wasted in making this library pamphlet.
